

Overlap of 1-degree grid-cells with long-term BBS monitoring data (grey outlined cells) and the eBird estimated proportion of Connecticut Warbler population during the breeding season. Approximately 31% of the species' population is within the 1-degree grid cells with BBS monitoring data